

The President's Ball held at The Metropolitan Entertainment Centre transported guests to the rugged beauty of Yellowstone with its theme, "Boots & Buckles: A Night at Yellowstone." As attendees arrived, they were greeted by an entrance reminiscent of the Yellowstone Ranch, complete with sparkling wine and a warm welcome from the newly appointed MCAM President, Wayne McKenzie.

Dressed in their finest Dutton duds, guests showcased their western flair, with Thermo Applicators stealing the spotlight for best dressed and claiming a unique prize – a can of Yellowstone baked beans.

Attendees enjoyed a four-course meal, while specialty cocktails like the cowboy margarita and caldera added a spirited touch to the event. The Sean Taylor Band played country classics, complemented by line dancing instruction. For those feeling lucky, casino tables, cattle roping, and a selfie station offered entertainment, with participants earning tickets for a chance to win prizes.

Raffle prizes included Winnipeg Blue Bombers tickets, Apple Watches, a Nintendo Switch, paddleboard and more. Attendees also had the opportunity to purchase tickets to enter a raffle for a job box filled with wine, adding an extra layer of excitement to the evening.
